DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 13-16, 18-20, drawn to a transgenic animal having a cells comprising a heat shock protein promoter operably linked to a reporter-gene sequence.

Group II, claim(s) 13, 15, 17-20, drawn to a transgenic animal having a cells comprising a promoter of gene encoding a member of the cytochrome P450 superfamily operably linked to a reporter-gene sequence.

Group III, claim(s) 13, 15, 17-20, drawn to a transgenic animal having a cells comprising a promoter of a p53 gene operably linked to a reporter-gene sequence.

Group IV, claim(s) 21, 22, drawn to a culture of primary cells comprising a construct of a stress-sensitive regulatory sequence linked to a reporter-gene sequence.

Group V, claim(s) 23-28, 33, 34, drawn to a method for analyzing toxicity of an agent using a transgenic animal having cells comprising a construct of a stress-sensitive regulatory sequence linked to a reporter-gene sequence.

Art Unit: 1632

Group VI, claim(s) 29-32, 35, drawn to a method for analyzing toxicity of an agent using a primary cells comprising a construct of a stress-sensitive regulatory sequence linked to a reporter-gene sequence.

The inventions listed as Groups I-VI do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

Groups I-III are directed to transgenic animals comprising cells with a construct of a stress-sensitive regulatory sequence and a reporter gene. Both CA 2,088,379 and Guven et al. disclose transgenic C. elegans comprising such a construct wherein the stress-sensitive regulatory element was a heat shock promoter, and methods of using these transgenic animals for assessing toxicity of agents as in group V. Therefore, there is no special technical feature linking inventions I to III, which differ based upon the specific stress-sensitive regulatory sequence used, or groups I-III with groups IV-VI. In other words, linking claim 13 is not allowable.

Claims 13, 15, 18-20 link(s) inventions I through III. The restriction requirement among the linked inventions is subject to the nonallowance of the linking claim(s), claims 13, 15, 17-20. Upon the allowance of the linking claim(s), the restriction requirement as to the linked inventions shall be withdrawn and any claim(s) depending from or otherwise including all the limitations of the allowable linking claim(s) will be entitled to examination in the instant application. Applicant(s) are advised that if any such claim(s) depending from or including all the limitations of the allowable linking claim(s) is/are presented in a continuation or divisional application, the claims of the continuation or divisional application may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application. Where a restriction requirement is withdrawn, the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 121 are no longer applicable. In re Ziegler, 44 F.2d 1211, 1215, 170 USPQ 129, 131-32 (CCPA 1971). See also MPEP § 804.01.

Should one of Groups IV-VI be elected, and claims subsequently presented directed explicitly to embodiments wherein the stress-sensitive regulatory sequence is more than one of a heat shock promoter, cytochrome P450 promoter, or p53 promoter, such embodiments will be deemed to be to separate linked inventions, as for Groups I-III. Applicant may provisionally elect an invention based upon the promoter at that time, or a new restriction requirement will be imposed.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(I).
